Education

B.A. (Hons.) Trent University

Graduated 2015 on the Dean's Honour Roll with a major in International Development Studies.

Media experience

Freelance sound technician

June 2019 – present

I am as a freelance sound recordist for film, TV and other media. I am a technician with my own kit and experience delivering highly organized sound files. Full list of credits attached.

Sound artist

October 2016 – present

I am a sound composer working primarily with field recordings and interviews to create art pieces that reflect on topics such as the sense of self and the capacity for sound to resonate in memory. I have participated in several group showings, including the LUCIA sound festival in Italy, and a residency at New Adventures in Sound Art in 2020.

Journalist

March 2019 – 2023

I prepared reporting for outlets such as CBC Radio, Broadview Magazine, and Electric City Magazine. I am also a tape sync producer for podcasts and radio; I have produced episodes for The Economist, NPR, CBC, and more.

Publisher & co-founder

Peterborough Currents

September 2017 – November 2022

I co-founded Peterborough Currents, a digital local news outlet that publishes hard-hitting investigative news. I managed business planning, editorial projects, and produced/wrote many pieces.

Audio producer & consultant

June 2019 – 2022

As a consultant, I prepared advice and insight into podcast industry trends, story structure and podcast convention, and collaborated with the teams to achieve project goals. Past clients include The Sick Kids Foundation, The Conversation Canada, CHUO-FM, and the Pinnguaq Association.

Founding director

Peterborough Independent Podcasters

September 2016 – July 2022

In 2016, I founded Peterborough Independent Podcasters, a not-for-profit organization with that brought together a community of podcasters and audio enthusiasts.

Producer

CBC Radio & CBC Podcasts

May 2015 – June 2019

In May 2015, I received the prestigious Gzowski internship at CBC Radio, which developed into a four-year stint working as a radio and podcast producer on such shows as Cross Country Checkup, Day 6, Ontario Morning, The Next Chapter, Podcast Playlist, and Front Burner. I was lead producer on several special assignments including The Next 150 podcast, a holiday special called The Disclosure Dilemma, and a promotional project called Being Black in Canada.

Other experience

Café operator

Mickaël's Café Librairie in Omemee

February 2023 – December 2023

During a career interlude, I managed and operated a café/bakery in Omemee, Ontario. I developed relationships with customers, managed day-to-day cash and card transactions, and worked with teammates to provide fresh-baked goods to the community.

Executive director

Sadleir House

July 2019 – February 2020

Briefly, I led operations and administration of a small charity and community center called Sadleir House, which is a venue primarily serving Trent University students. I administrated accounting, inventory, cleaning, contractors, staff, and reported to the board of directors.

Reporter

Arthur Newspaper

September 2014 – April 2015

I got my start in journalism as a student reporter with the Trent University student press, Arthur Newspaper. I pitched, wrote and edited articles about campus life and the Peterborough community, including many features on city hall, library services, and the arts.
